

Evaluation Discussion

The over all response for my site was good. Everyone that did the survey liked my banner and secondary graphics, the splash graphic didn't get that good of a response but I kind of expected that. Everyone liked the color scheme with the black and purple which I am very happy with. Everyone liked the navigation so I guess they didn't have any problems with it. Some people didn't like the song lyrics in the homepage splash graphic, and other people found it hard to read the text in the secondary graphics.

I didn't get a lot of males doing my survey so it was a very female response so that may effect. With my font I got people saying it was hard to read and other people saying that they liked that the most so I am a bit torn on whether to change it or not. But the text in the secondary pages is hard to read but it is also the name of the page and if you click on that page then that's what the text says in the graphic so with some logical thinking people might understand, I hope. Also some people found it hard to see what the graphic is but that is kind of the feel I was going for.

One person said that the white font in the navigation bar was too bright and I should maybe change it to purple with a white roll over. I did have it as purple at the start but there was just too much purple on the page so I might change the font to a duller color, maybe a light grey dark white.

There was one spelling mistake in my about me section, I spelt section as seaction. So I went into dream weaver and changed it, when I changed it the line of the text was out a tad and look out of place of I made it line up again and all is good on that page. People generally loved what I wrote in my about me section.
