

Website - Brief Report

My website was analyzed by ten people. The average that I got for my banner was 1.6 which I think is really good. Most of the comments that I got for my banner said that they liked it because it was simple. Byron did not like the simple one, he preferred my first one. The reason that I had to change it was because it had too many colours.

I got an average of 1.7 for my colour scheme which I thought was going to be worse because I did not think the males would like the colour. In my comments it said that the colour looked good for an orientation of teaching children dancing but the colours were not professional. I really like the colours that I chose, it made the whole website flow together.

The average for my navigation was 1.7 the same as my colour scheme. No one commented on my navigation so I do not know why I got some low marks, this is a bit annoying because I do not know how I can change it.

My average for my splash graphic was 1.8. There were also no comments about how to improve my splash graphic. I really like my splash graphic and I enjoyed making it.

The average I got for my title graphics were two. I seriously think that people did not take this exercise seriously and just marked any box because no one really wrote any helpful comments. There were no comments about my title graphics.

I also got an average of two for my text. The only comment I got for this question was from Byron who just said that I needed to reword the question.

I got 4.2 as my average for my photo viewer in which I did not have so this shows that people were not reading the question because I should have got 5 from everyone.
