

Journal entry: 23\9\09

In this project we had to design a website to display our work, whether it be art, photos or music.

Journal entry: 24\9\09

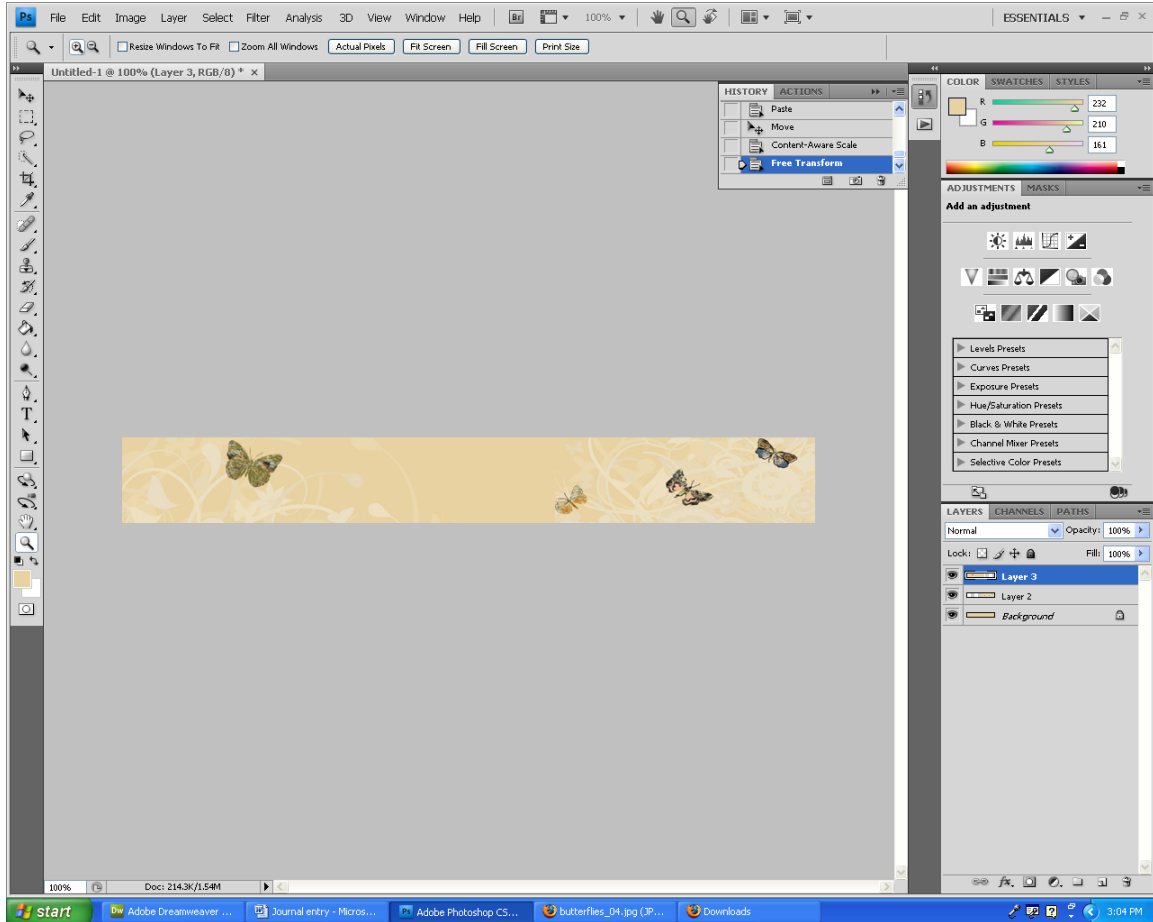

Very briefly I will try to explain what we have done today in the last 2 periods.

Today we have begun our website, we've just sorted out the files and have been getting used to dreamweaver.

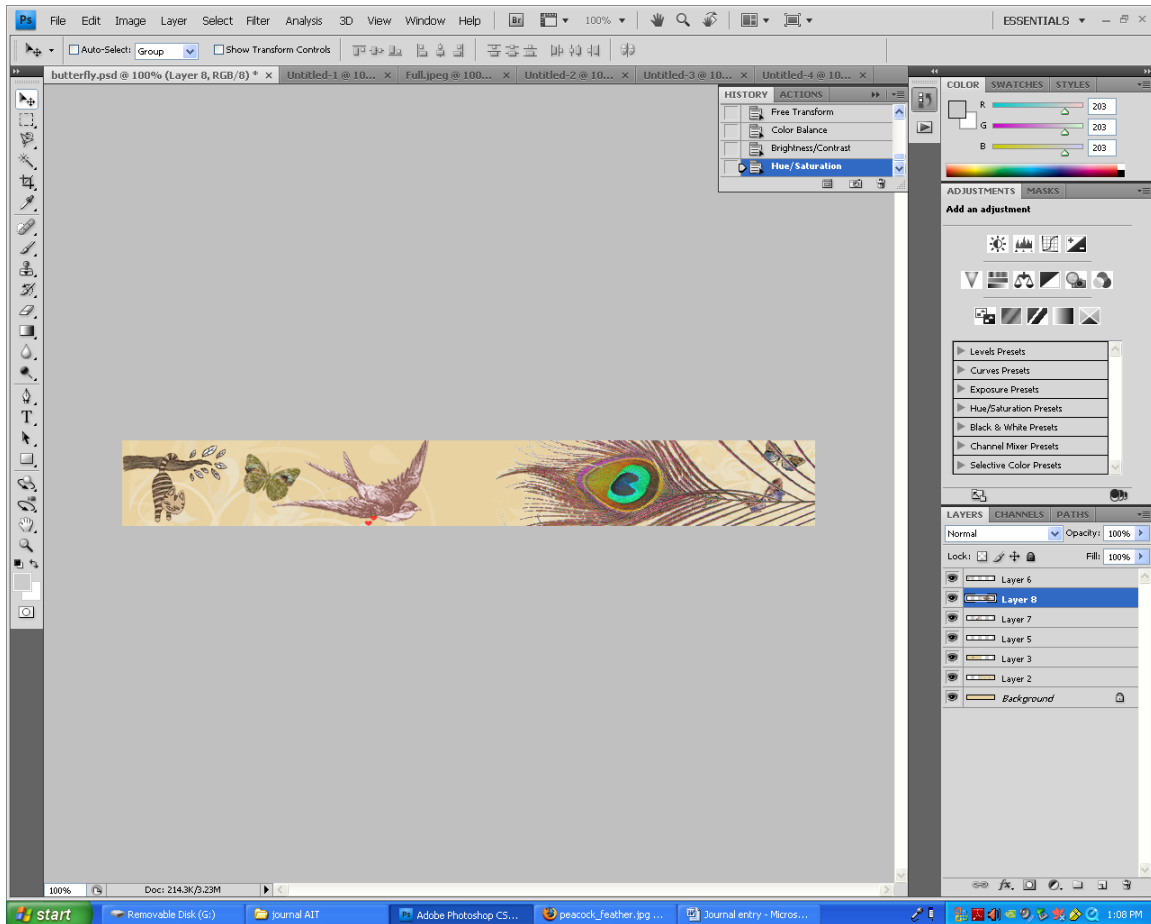

This lesson we haven't really come across any problems.

The whole of this lesson we have been making a banner for the top of our website. Looking good.

PAPER WORK SUCKS SOOOOOOOOOOOO MUCHLY!!!!!!!!!!!!!!

Today I received my depressing results of all the bloody paper work I didn't do. So to make me feel better I did some more on my MAGNIFICENT banner, love it, and that made me feel kind of better. That was until Mr. Vandertang told us to do as journal entry.

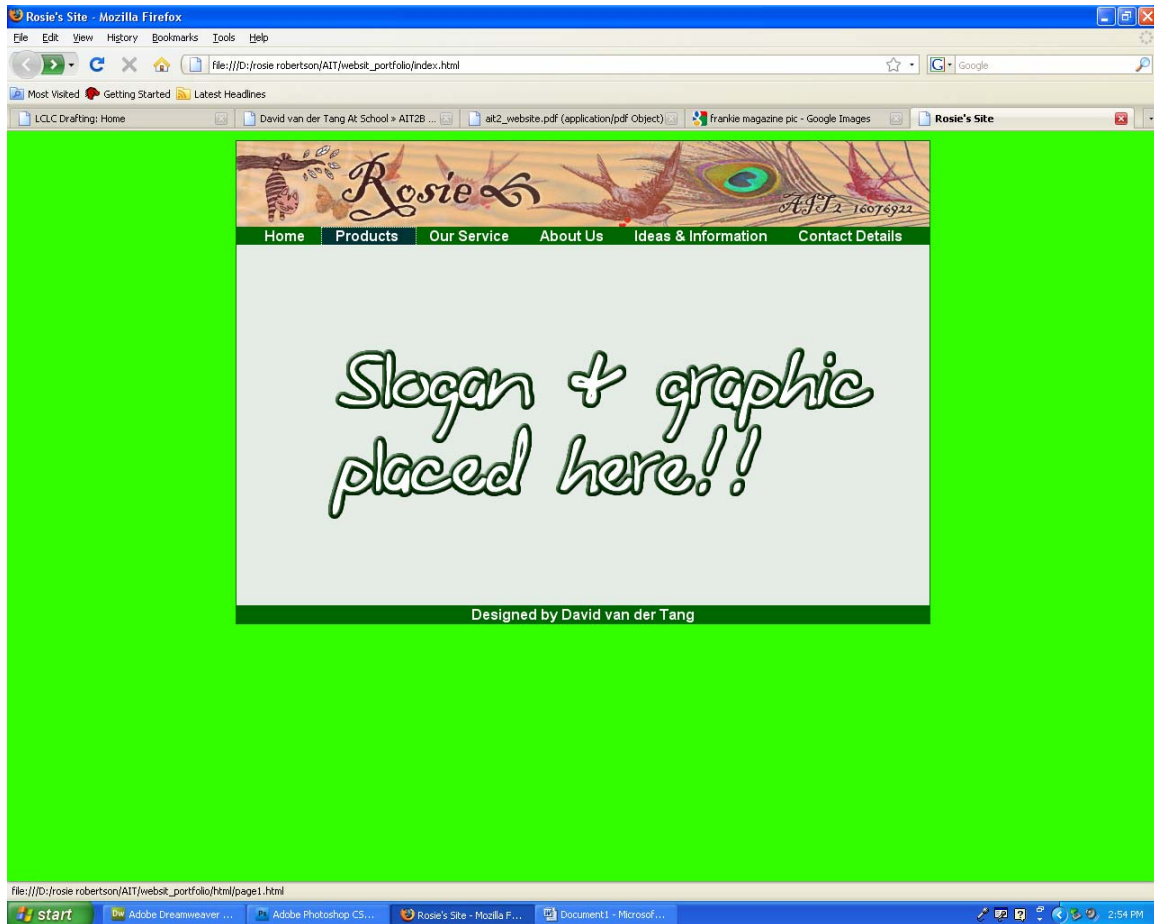

I didn't find out any thing new about photo shop today, except it is really annoying when you have to try to teach it to other people who expect you to know everything about it when you don't.

This lesson I have, so far, changed our navigation which I found relatively easy [dreemwaver it easy!!], done some of my banner [looking good] and organized my files.

11-8-09

Ok new discovery- I've messed up something, new it would happen, - well the home button won't work. Anyhoo I've finally finished my banner and it looks amazing!! So all I have to do now is put content in every single page, make a graphic, make a photo viewer, change the background, change the navigation and do a review, not much at all.

18/9/09

I think I've finally done!!!! All I have to do is do a survey and finish putting some content in and I can hand it in. a encounter a mishap on Tuesday, the style sheet had been changed slightly and the navigating didn't work properly but with the help of Mr. Van der tang we managed to set the problem strait by coping Barbara's style sheet and replacing mine with it. The end result for the website is quit good. ☺
